Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 03 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A dry day with sunny spells developing.

Today:
A dry day with widespread low cloud in the morning breaking up throughout the day to leave plenty of sunny spells.Feeling pleasantly warm, with the highest temperatures further east. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying dry overnight with clear skies over Devon and Cornwall but cloud elsewhere. Turning chilly with a risk of isolated grass frost and isolated fog patches in the west. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Friday:
Morning cloud and perhaps a little rain over eastern counties will clear away, leaving all parts dry and sunny for the afternoon. Warm again in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Scattered showers and sunshine on Saturday and Sunday, Further scattered showers on Monday. Pleasantly warm, with light winds, though quite chilly in places overnight.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.